NORWAY AND VICINITY

Teachers for Coming Year.

At the May meeting of the school committee the following teachers were elected for Norway village schools for the ensuing year:

Primaries—Gertrude O. Gardner, Mercy E. Millett, Sadie E. Millett, Hattie E. Cragin, Cora B. Shedd.
Intermediates—Annie B. Lafarier, Isabel A. Woodbury.
Grammars—Jessie L. Dinsmore, Agnes E. Sanborn.
High School:
Principal—Verne Whitman.
Sub-Master—Wm. K. Holmes.
First Assistant—Sarah L. Staples.

The new teachers are Sadie E. Millett, who has taught in our rural schools since her graduation from the Norway High School; Isabel A. Woodbury of Waterford, a member of the present graduating class of Farmington State Normal School, and William K. Holmes.

Mr. Holmes is a graduate of Bates College, class of 1901. He has taught physics and chemistry in the college for the past year, and is therefore well equipped for the submastership here, where he will teach mainly the sciences.

Miss Woodbury has taught two terms in the Pike's Hill school.

Norway Municipal Court.

Saturday, the case of State vs. Lydia Newell of Woodstock was heard before Judge Herrick C. Davis. Two of the neighbors whose children were obliged to go by her house to school claimed that she set her dog on the children. She claimed this was absolutely false, that she kept the dog tied to the stove leg day and night except when the dog was led out of doors. Witnesses were brought to show that the dog ran wild and attacked the children, and wounds on the children's legs were shown. Kimball appeared for the State and Holt & Barnes for the respondent. Respondent adjudged guilty and sentenced to 30 days in jail; sentence suspended during good behavior, provided the dog is sacrificed.

Monday, Julius Judkins of Norway was before the Municipal Court on charge of a liquor nuisance. He was bound over to the Grand Jury which sits in October.

The class ode was written by Marguerite Finney and to the tune of "Fair Harvard."

As Freshmen, we entered the High School one morn,
With bright faces and hearts all aglow,
And we've never forgot, though our schooldays are o'er,
When we all sat down front in a row.
Advancing, soon we were proud Sophomores,
With hard work lying close at our hand;
And, though this year had its sorrow and joy,
We then formed a happy band.
Next, gracing the seats that the Juniors had left,
With bright faces and hearts just the same;
And our duty calling us onward each day,
Through this year we worked with an aim.
Then, last but not least, as Seniors we strove
Hand in hand to help one and all—
To paddle our little canoe to the shore,
With never a rift or a fall.
To teachers and classmates, we all hold so dear,
We must now say our last adieu;
And we'll cherish a memory wherever we go
For the class of 1902.

N. H. S. vs. P. H. S. at Fair Grounds.

Saturday, the high school teams of the two towns played a game at the fair grounds, and Norway won with a score of 11 to 10.

John Augustus Bolster.

John Augustus Bolster died at the home of his son, Fred A. Bolster, in Otisfield, Tuesday, June 3, where he had lived most of the time for a few years past, since his health failed. Last winter he was with his other son, J. Freeland Bolster, at Norway.

Mr. Bolster was the son of Isaac Bolster 3d and Polly (Cushman) Bolster. Isaac Bolster built the first store at Bolster's Mills. Augustus Bolster was born June 28, 1822. On May 6, 1852, he married Almena Adams of Andover, who died March 11, 1880. Three children were born to them, the two sons mentioned above now living. His second wife was Abbie H. Lord of Norway, who is also deceased.

Mr. Bolster has been a large dealer in real estate, and his judgment in buying and selling was so good it was said by outside people he never made a loss. However that may be, by industry and trade he acquired a goodly amount of this world's goods. He was thoughtful of the poor and respected by his townsmen. He has held town offices in Norway, where he lived many years, and represented the town in the Legislature. Several years ago he bought a residence in the village and made his home here.

The funeral will be from the Methodist church at 1 30, Saturday afternoon.

Funeral of Mrs. Maude Hassan.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Maude Hassan were held the afternoon of Memorial Day, May 30. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends, who came to manifest their respect and deep sorrow. Rev. E. S. Cotton spoke words of comfort, laying the tributes of helpfulness, willingness and faithfulness at the feet of the departed one.

Ten of her girl classmates and friends preceded her in procession to the grave and strewed flowers upon the earth that covers the well known form. Two classmates and two friends were the men who acted as bearers. Interment was in the Sanborn family lot in Rustfield cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The list is as follows:

Commencing with next Saturday, the steamer on the lake will run on its summer schedule of time. See time card elsewhere. Capt. Porter has a small steamer and can accommodate small excursions and fishing parties. Speak to him by telephone.

The last meeting of the Veranda Club was held with Mrs. William Twitchell in Oxford and was royally entertained. No work was done by the club and the entire afternoon was given up to social enjoyment. A bountiful supper was given by Mrs. Twitchell and this was one of the most enjoyable meetings that have been held by the club.

The farce-comedy, Three Cheers, was presented at the Opera House, Wednesday evening, and was one of the best plays to drive away the "blues" we have ever witnessed. It occasioned a continual round of laughter from the rise until the fall of the curtain, and while not playing to a large audience was presented in a first-class and pleasing manner.

Ex-Gov. and Mrs. Frederic Robie and Mrs. Rose (Chute) Johnson of Gorham, Me., were in Norway Monday night. Tuesday they attended the Pomona Grange at the Frederic Robie Grange at Otisfield Gore. The Governor greeted a number of friends he had met in town when here before. Mrs. Johnson attended school in South Paris, though she has not been here before for eighteen years.

Norway Center school closed, Friday forenoon, May 30th, and a Memorial program of songs, recitations and a flag drill was given by the scholars and teacher, Miss Towne. Margie Hobbs was absent one day because of sickness.

"Joshua Simpkins" was presented Saturday night at the Opera House and was well rendered and enthusiastically received by one of the largest houses that has greeted any company this season. The jokes as a rule were fresh and crisp and the play entertaining. At noon and before the evening's performance the company's band paraded the streets and gave a short concert in the square at noon in South Paris.

The Oxford county W. C. T. U. has been so fortunate as to secure the services of Mrs. Nelle G. Burger of Clark, Missouri, to deliver the address of the convention, Thursday evening, June 12. Mrs. Burger is a fine speaker and talks to crowded houses. Those who have had the pleasure of listening to her are anticipating a rare treat. The public are cordially invited to this lecture, as well as to all other meetings of the convention.

Ira Harriman's horses ran away Monday morning but when the excitement was over it was found that no damage had been done. Mr. Harriman's horses, three in number were hitched to his milk team in front of Simeon Harriman's grocery store, when the leader, a rather nervous animal, started and the other two needed little coaxing to join him. They ran down Main street and turned into Greenleaf Ave., and came to a stop upon a hitching post.

The Hebron Academy nine defeated the Bridgtons at Hebron last Saturday. Score, 6 to 5.

SOUTH PARIS.

Memorial Day's Observance.

Memorial Day was appropriately observed in South Paris as usual, last Friday.

Several members of the Grand Army Post went to West Paris in the morning to assist in the exercises held there, and returned about noon. The entire Post partook of a bountiful dinner prepared by the W. R. C. in G. A. R. Hall.

At 1.30 the line was formed in front of the hall as follows: Norway Cadet Band, Spanish-American War Veterans, G. A. R., W. R. C., and the school children. The procession marched to Riverside cemetery. After the usual exercises and decorating the graves, the procession reformed and marched to the square, to Moore Park, past the soldiers' monument and back to New Hall, where the exercises of the day, which consisted of a prayer by Rev. A. W. Pottle, reading general orders for the day and Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Capt. H. N. Bolster, "The Whistling Regiment" by A. E. Morse; "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," Schubert Quartet.

Hon. J. S. Wright then addressed a few words to the assembly, followed by the speaker of the day, Rev. D. B. Dow of Oldtown, presiding elder of the Bangor District of the Methodist church. Mr. Dow is a very fine and an easy speaker, and held the attention of his audience during his discourse, which lasted some three quarters of an hour.

The program closed with a selection by the Schubert Quartet, "In Memoriam," by Gabriel, as arranged by Mrs. Cora S. Briggs.

Mrs. Anna Churchill is on the sick list.

Cassie Briggs has returned home from Lewiston, where she has been employed for some time past.

Mrs. Charles Gray and little daughter Thelma of West Natick, Mass., came Sunday morning and will spend the summer months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McArdle.

Rev. C. S. Cummings is ahead for sheriff in the Androscoggin County Republican Convention at Auburn, but has not votes enough to elect. They have taken over a hundred ballots and it is still "no choice."

BETHEL.

The Bethel Savings Bank Corporation have their annual meeting, Wednesday.

The note of taxation this year is 18 mills on the dollar, one-half a mill more than last year.

Edwin C. Rowe has sold his pair of colts to Mr. Sanborn of the firm of Chase & Sanborn of Boston for $600.

Mrs. Chas. Kenney of Portland is visiting for a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. St. John Hastings.

John E. Benton of Berlin, who is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Ada Wight, is suffering from a slight attack of appendicitis.

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Gehring of Cleveland, Ohio, will spend the summer in Bethel with Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Wiley, Mrs. Gehring's parents.

Commencement concert of Gould Academy at Odeon Hall, Thursday evening, June 5. The Mendelssohn Quartet and reader, Miss Safford.

Liscoe Hall has bought the Rich house of Judge Foster of Portland. A. W. Fickett of Hastings has bought the Geo. W. Bryant place on Grover Hill road.

The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class at Gould Academy, Sunday, by Rev. C. N. Gleason at the Congregational church was from Matt. 7:7—Knock and it shall be opened unto you.

Albert Warner, a student of Newton Center, will supply the pulpit at Middle Intervale during the summer, beginning Sunday, June 8. He will also hold services at East Bethel, Sunday afternoon, at 2.30.

Frank E. Needham who has had the cataracts removed from his eyes at the Eye and Ear Infirmary in Portland, will return to his home here Saturday. The operation is understood to have been successfully performed.

Rev. O. S. Pillsbury, the pastor of the Methodist church, will preach a series of Sunday morning sermons on subjects taken from the book of Revelation. The first of these will be given next Sabbath, on "The Gates of Pearl."

Prof. W. C. Chapman will give a concert in Odeon Hall on Tuesday evening, July 7th. The Bethel and Norway choruses will join and will be assisted by Margaret Frye, soprano, Francis Archambault, bass, Hans Kronald, cellist.

Dynamite was used, Saturday and Sunday, to break the jam of logs which was pressing against the pier of the "Toll" bridge, causing a feeling of anxiety for the safety of the bridge. Monday night, the river at that point was clear of logs, but an immense jam had formed at the head of Hastings island.

Middle Intervale.

Decoration Day as usual, graves remembered. Comrades passed on to East Bethel, where the teacher, Miss Abbott, had interesting exercises by her school. This is what every loyal, patriotic teacher, parent or guardian should do. We regret that any are careless or ignorant in this respect. Mr. Swett of Portland spoke well and his appreciation of the interest the children had been taught to take was marked.

PARIS HILL.

DON'T DELAY

It is "Putting Off Till Some Other Day" that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

Be sure you need a medicine before you take it, but having once found out that you need it, lose no time in getting the best. If it's for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weakness peculiar to women, the best is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky or cloudy appearance; if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbytarian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine and all the unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey and beer.

All druggists sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

Gathered In.

A Poet with battle-flag unfurled
Was firing broadsides into the world,
Which, having nothing to give in exchange,
Handed him back his poems. "Strange,"
He murmured in tones of pain,
"Wherever they're sent they return again.
It may be practise and discipline,
But I gather them in, I gather them in.
"Like curses and chickens of which I used
To hear so much, they come home to roost,
Each one labelled 'declined with thanks.'
Editors mostly are prejudiced cranks.
Were I the ocean and ever a whim
Should seize them to come to my shores to swim,
I would rise in my might, it would be no sin,
And I'd gather them in, I would gather them in.
"I wish the police or the dustman's cart,
The appendicitis or failing heart,
The recruiting sergeant's hypnotic ways
Or the awful fangs of the A. P. A.'s,
The dog-cart man or the Danite band,
The 'Vigilant' Committee or 'White Caps' hand
Or Salvation Army combating sin,
Might gather them in, might gather them in."
He ceased when his voice, too hoarse and weak,
Worked over time, had refused to speak.
And the days flew by, and the years grew old.
Like all true poets, so I've been told,
His habit of trying a name to make
Like all "dupe" habits proved hard to break.
And he wasted ink until Death's cold fin
Had gathered him in, had gathered him in.
CORA M. W. GREENLEAF.

My Heart is With the Spring.

My heart is with the spring
Where sweet buds swell,
With every beautiful and growing thing
I long to dwell.
Feign would I grow as sweet as flowers do
Where sunbeams burst,
Drinking in love, as flowers drink in the dew
When faint with thirst.
My heart is with the spring;
From vales of gloom
I would arise as the glad lark takes wing
Where mornings bloom,
Leaving behind the shadows and the mist;
Through gates of light,
Where selfish thought can never more exist
I'd take my flight.
My heart is with the spring
In peace and rest;
As to these old home bowers I fondly cling,
Loving them the best.
Beyond the faded passes of my dreams
Where songs were sung,
A vista of the golden summer gleams,
And I grow young.
My heart is with the spring;
And as of yore
I bide the blessings which the roses bring
Beside my door.
My heart is with the spring; and yet it strays
Glad June, to thee.
This last sweet summer in the olden ways
How sweet 'twill be!

The Hamlin Family

Of Paris Hill.

The many people acquainted with the Hamlin family, which is one of the oldest, best known, and most honored in the State, as well as elsewhere, will be interested to know that Hon. Frank Hamlin of Chicago has just sent to the Hamlin Memorial library at Paris Hill a copy of the marble bust of Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, his father. The original bust is the valued possession of Mrs. Hannibal Hamlin of Bangor, and is the work of Richard K. Gatley. It is an excellent likeness of the famous man, and a beautiful bit of sculpture as well.

It is eminently fitting that the first bust to be placed in this cabinet should be of the foremost man who ever went out from Paris. His widow, whose home is still in Bangor, was at the Hill recently, superintending the placing of the bust.

It was to Bangor that Hon. Hannibal Hamlin returned at once after resigning his last government position, that of minister to Spain. To this position he was appointed in 1881 by President Garfield, but he resigned at the end of a year.

The old Hamlin homestead at Paris, later the Chase house, and now the summer home of Capt. H. H. Lyons of New York, captain of the Olympia, is still pointed to with pride by Paris people.

In all the years of his residence in Hampden and Bangor, Mr. Hamlin's attachment to Paris and her people remained unchanged, and he visited there very often.

Many are the stories the older residents tell of the days when Hannibal Hamlin was a boy here, when ex-Gov. Sidney Perham was a school boy in the tumble-down brick structure, when Horatio King was growing up here, and of days when many of the famous Oxford county folk were still little people growing up here at home.

The story of how Hamlin once threw himself from his clumsy home-made frame sled to save a pretty little playmate from dashing at full speed into a tree hole, of course, is now nearly forgotten. But for years after honors had been heaped on this reputable son of Paris, a sweet faced old grandmother in a quiet Paris home pointed to a wee scar on a wrinkled cheek. "That was all the hurt I had," she said, "and" with a blush, "when the big, gentle hearted boy picked me up and bashfully kissed me—a little bit of a school girl in red hood and mittens—to reassure me, I felt a warm friendship start to life within me which I never outgrew." The sweet old lady is now for a long time asleep, and her children have not thought of the incident for years.

HAMLIN BORN IN PARIS.

Although Hamlin's death occurred in Bangor, he was a native of Paris, where he was born in 1809. On the paternal side he descended from the Hamlins, who early settled at Barnstable on Cape Cod, and from whom the different families in New England of the name have sprung. His grandfather was an officer in the Revolutionary war and served with vigor and effect. On the maternal side, his Puritan ancestry was equally distinguished, his mother being a Livermore, the daughter of one of the proprietors and first settlers of the town of Livermore.

A collegiate education such as was intended for Hannibal Hamlin he never enjoyed. For, following the death of his father, duties devolved upon him which prevented him from following out the original plans. Soon after he was 21, in company with Horatio King, he purchased a paper, started at Paris a year or two previous and called the Jeffersonian. He worked for six months with inky fingers and smutty apron at the case. Then he sold out his interest to Mr. King, who later moved the paper to Portland, where it eventually became the Eastern Argus.

Mr. King has been since '39 a resident of Washington, D. C. He was for many years continuously connected with the post-office department. He was postmaster general under Buchanan, and on retiring from this office served on a board of commissions to carry out the Emancipation Proclamation in the District of Columbia.

Hamlin, after selling out his newspaper interest, studied law. Soon after his admission to the bar, he moved to Hampden, where he remained actively in practice for 15 years. His first public office of honor was his election to the Maine legisture in 1836.

Re-elected three times, he served his last three terms as speaker of the House. His elections and re-elections to the Congress are known, as are his election to the position of vice president on the ticket with Abraham Lincoln. Later, from his appointment as collector of the port of Boston he resigned, not being satisfied with the policy of the acting President under whom he received his appointment.

Gen. Charles Hamlin of Bangor and Hannibal Emery Hamlin, a practising attorney in Ellsworth are also sons of Hon. Hannibal Hamlin. Gen. Hamlin is well known throughout this section, and is one of the deeper thinkers and literary men of the State.

A graduate of Bowdoin in '57, he served with great distinction in the Civil war, and was promoted through the various grades to brevet brigadier general. He has been Register in Bankruptcy, and in '85 served his second term as member of the Legislature. Hannibal E. Hamlin is a graduate of Colby university, while Hon. Frank Hamlin of Chicago graduated from Harvard in '84.

THE MEMORIAL HALL.

As to Hamlin Memorial hall, it will be remembered that it was largely through the efforts of Dr. Augustus Choate Hamlin of Bangor, a nephew of the vice president, that this Memorial hall was secured to the lovely village in the Oxford hills.

The building itself is one of the most historic in the western part of the State. You remember it was originally the county jail. It was away back in 1805 that the common, on which the court house, jail and other county buildings were located, was deeded to the county by Jesse Cummings, in consideration of one dollar. Then, following the small-sized internal convulsion, when the county buildings were triumphantly secured by the village of South Paris and these old buildings abandoned by the county, by the terms of the deed the land and buildings reverted to the heirs of Jesse Cummings. The jail, besides having acquired a picturesque reputation as a tremendous stronghold for the convicted sinner, retained the original solidity and permanence with which it was invested by the early builders. Every part of the quaint structure was of granite.

The partitions were of granite slabs seven or ten feet long and a foot and a half through. The venerable building appealed to the romantic side of Dr. Hamlin, and he made a proposition to the women of the Hill which they eagerly acted on. They secured a deed of the old jail, which bit of labor meant much, for the heirs were scattered from Dan to Beersheba—or to cling to unimpeachable truth, from Maine to California. But when the deed was secured, Dr. Hamlin transformed the old building into a uniquely beautiful cabinet in which is situated not only the public library but a priceless collection of Maine gems, and a wonderful accumulation of valuable historical documents.

Largely through the generosity of Dr. Hamlin, the library has now reached beyond its 500th volume. Among the gems are those from the beautifully complete collections of the late Jarvis B. Carter and Samuel R. Carter.

Samuel Carter married Julia Hamlin of Bangor, a sister of Dr. A. C. Hamlin. His son, Jarvis Livermore Carter, after securing the degree of A. B. from Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., took up his residence in New York city.

Another present to Paris village by Hannibal Hamlin is the clock in the steeple of the Baptist church.

AT MT. MICA.

One of the recollections of my boyhood days spent at Paris Hill is of happy picnics at Mt. Mica. Here we often used to meet S. R. Carter, who was an enthusiastic mineralogist.

A beautiful green beryl was found at Mount Mica 80 years ago by Prof. Shepherd then of Amherst. By him it was presented to Eliza Hrmlin, and through her heirs it has come to the Memorial library. Many of the gems which are exhibited here are from Mount Mica. This wonderful pocket of tourmalines and other gem-stones, it is interesting to know, was discovered by Hon. Elijah L. Hamlin, late of Bangor, in connection with Hon. Ezekiel Holmes. It is his son, Dr. A. C. Hamlin, who at this time, as owner, is superintending the development of the tourmaline deposit. Only a day or two since I learned from Loren B. Merrill, who has charge of operations at the mine, that he had just cut a remarkably beautifully tourmaline. It was taken from the mountain several years ago, and had been laid aside as of too light color to make a good gem.

It was one of those peculiar formations, such as are pictured in Dr. Hamlin's book, "The Tourmaline." The stone was a very light green, shading off to a delicate pink at one extremity. Skillful cutting brought the pink tint at the apex, thus magnificently throwing the color out and bestowing upon the stone a peculiar salmon tint, such as has never been approached in any other tourmaline. This stone was a perfect 41¼ carat, and is one of the largest perfect gems ever cut from a Mount Mica tourmaline. It is cut with 74 facets and when viewed by Dr. Hamlin on his last visit to the Hill, was enthusiastically examined and gloated over.

Dr. Hamlin has a long list of prefixes and suffixes—mostly of the latter—to his name. He was formerly lieutenant-colonel and medical inspector U. S. army, historian, Eleventh Army Corps, assistant surgeon of the Second Maine Volunteers in 1865, Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Sciences, member of the Royal Society of Antiquarians of Northern Europe, Chevalier of St. Anne of Russia, with other titles. He is a congenial friend and fascinating raconteur, withal. His father, Dr. Elijah Hamlin, was a wonderfully handsome man, and Dr. Hamlin is not unlike him. He is a long-time friend of warden Hillman Smith of the Maine State prison at Thomaston.

"Always has his joke," says Dr. Hamlin. "Smith always must have his crack at me. Why, t'other day he came up to me and slapped me on the shoulder and said he, 'Hamlin, I've known you since '65, and you was the handsomest man in the army.' But that's just his joke."

DR. HAMLIN AS A WRITER.

Dr. Hamlin has written several scientific books, which are in the Hamlin library.

Said Dr. Hamlin to the Paris librarian one day, "Let's see, have you the Battle of Chancellorsville in the library?"

"I think not," said the little librarian blandly, "Who wrote it?"

"I did," thundered the doctor somewhat in scorn.

But the librarian recovered herself instantly and effectually smoothed things over.

"Indeed, I am sure we have not for I should have remembered the book perfectly had I seen your name as author," she suavely said.

The Hamlin Memorial Hall has been renovated with an idea of making it, so far as may be practical, a reproduction in America of the beautiful tope of Sulim Chisti in India. When Dr. Hamlin was a young man travelling in India, he saw that marvellous bit of oriental architecture, and was charmed with the delicate beauty of the design. He made a sketch of the tope. He has latterly worked the lines into the plans for the hall. Because unsympathetic by-standers criticised the idea of reproducing the architecture of the Orient in the colder regions of the temperate zone, Dr. Hamlin said, "It would be difficult to find a more fitting housing for these precious stones, as it was from the Orient that our first knowledge and love for the gem was derived."

In finally effecting the transformation from the old bastile to the Memorial Hall it is planned to completely cover the outside wall with matched cedar, and to add gracefully carved facades, cornices, carved columns and a portico, with a balustrade. It has also been stated that eventually the structure will be known as the Oxford Cabinet, although the name of Hamlin Memorial Hall will never be allowed by the townspeople to sink into total disuse.—[Bangor Commercial.

Emma Southard of Portland has been visiting relatives at the home of Dean A. Ballard for a week, and also other friends in the neighborhood. She left, June 1, for a position in the employ of the Ricker Brothers of Poland Spring.

The first funeral cortege to pass through the new gateway of our cemetery was that following the remains of William Walker, whose interment was on Tuesday, May the 20th. Beautiful flowers, the tributes of loving relatives and friends, covered the grave, which had been lined by Hon. Dean A. Ballard, who also prepared the grave, with evergreen, tastefully intermingled with the blossoms of the wild cherry.

The regular meeting of the Sterling Literary Club was at the home of Mrs. S. O. Wiley, and it brought out a full attendance of the members. The debate upon the question, "Should a Woman's Talents be Confined to Her Own Home?" was a well-conducted, yet a lively one, one withal, and the efforts of the contestants to maintain their side of the debate prepared them to appreciate with relish the more material efforts of the hostess in the good things of the table at the club tea immediately following the exercises. A selected reading by Mrs. Jones, bearing on the topic of the afternoon deserves mention, as well as the songs by Mrs. H. D. E. Hutchins, also selected to fit the occasion. Mrs. Elmer Walker received the club at its last meeting, June 3.

Mrs. Ira Whitman Towle and children have returned from an extended visit to her mother, Mrs. Hill, in Stoneham, and are now boarding at Charles Andrews'.

Chas. Stevens is very busy with his potato planter. The orders are nearly in excess of his ability, but Charles has a lot of push, and is filling orders very fast.

Herbert Heath and family, who have been residents at Lovell for a few years, are now located on what was formerly the E. W. Burbank seed farm. The original farm has been divided and sold in small lots to adjoining owners, and Chas. Ward is proprietor of the house now occupied by Heath.

Memorial Day in Norway.

Friday, Memorial Day began rather cloudy but by eight o'clock the clouds had been driven away and the sun shone forth and remained with us the entire day. With the exception of the strong breeze and the wet condition of the roads the day was perfect.

The procession, made up of the Norway band, Co. D, as escort, the G. A. R. and W. R. C., formed in front of G. A. R. Hall and marched to the head of Main street where the members of the W. R. C. took the electrics for Pine Grove cemetery. The electrics moved beside the procession most of the way to the cemetery.

After the ladies had taken the car the parade took up the march for that place. As they neared the cemetery the band played a funeral dirge which continued until they halted in the cemetery. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. S. Cotton, and Merton L. Kimball, Esq., made a few remarks as a representative of the younger generation and the boys who were in the late war. The graves were decorated as the band played "Pleasant Dreams," by Ripley.

The procession re-formed and returned by the way of Beal and Lynn streets to the village whence they proceeded to Rustfield cemetery. After a prayer by Rev. B. F. Fickett, Verne Whitman spoke a few words relative to the veterans lying there. Long addresses to out-door audiences was next to impossible with such a wind as blew Friday but the shorter ones were well delivered and as a rule are better received by an audience of any sort than long and flowery ones.

The G. A. R. broke ranks and after decorating the graves re-assembled and marched to Main street where the Post was to "fall out." They then proceeded to Co. D's armory where the band dispersed but Co. D remained in line to do escort duty to F. T. Bartlett Camp, Spanish-American War Veterans, who through some oversight on the part of the G. A. R. had not been invited to participate in their exercises. The camp followed practically the same route as that taken by the preceeding procession and returned to the armory. In the afternoon the camp participated by invitation in the exercises held by the G. A. R. in South Paris.

A large number assembled in Norway Opera House Friday afternoon at 2.30 for the part of the memorial exercises to be held in the hall. The stage was tastefully decorated with flags, stacked arms and the flag draped portraits of Gen. Henry Rust Jr., and Gen. Geo. L. Beal. On the stage were seated the aged veteran, Capt. Amos F. Noyes, Prof. L. C. Bateman of Lewiston, Rev. B. S. Rideout and Commander S. H. Legrow. The band, the G. A. R. and Relief Corp attended the exercises at South Paris and did not return till three o'clock.

Commander Legrow presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. B. S. Rideout of the Congregational church. It was an earnest invocation in keeping with the solemn observance of the day. The Norway Cadet Band gave three selections in the hall, and when we say that we never heard a Norway band do better work it will be understood that Norway has a band of which it is proud. A tribute to the sleeping dead was sung by the quartet, James Dunn, Archibald Slack, George A. Briggs and Fred E. Hall. Their voices blend beautifully. June Leavitt read the Memorial Elegy artistically and appropriately. Mrs. Frank Kimball sang a solo, "The Red, White and Blue Flag." Her voice was just suited to the music and we have never heard her sing better. She sang as an encore "The Boy Far Away to the War." It was a pleasure to hear her sing. The accompanist was Virginia Sargent.

Prof. L. C. Bateman's address was founded on a lofty theme, the lasting reward of all who work unselfishly for the good of a cause or for others and not for their own selfish glory. This truth was expressed in the most flowery language, and history from all parts of the world and from all time was brought forward to establish the fact. He showed that the unknown and humble, self-sacrificing soldier had done his part to make victory possible, that the work that has been done and the wars that had been fought for a right principle were the only results that were permanent. The five great generals of ancient history had fought to acquire fame and lands for themselves. In every case much of their fame and their lands passed away with them. But the generals who had fought to give their fellowmen something to make them better, like Washington, Lincoln, Grant down to the private soldier, had left a prosperous country and a united people.

He spoke of flowers as an emblem of hope, and that all who decorate the graves of the departed show that somewhere, somehow they have in their hearts a hope of immortality. Prof. Bateman is himself an old soldier and he gave to his old captain, A. F. Noyes, a glowing tribute of praise.

At 6.30 p. m. the G. A. R., Company D. and members of the '98 company assembled at the armory and marched to Concert Hall where a bountiful supper had been prepared for them by the Ladies' Aid connected with the company.

Six long tables had been prepared by them and a bouquet of flowers ornamented the center of each. The stage was decorated with flags and "stacked" arms and the crowning feature of the decorations was a large portrait of the former captain, Frank T. Bartlett, who went South with the company in '98, and who is now deceased.

The toastmaster of the evening was A. J. Stearns, Esq. Several gentlemen were called upon for brief remarks among whom were Capt. J. Waldo Nash, Major B. F. Bradbury, Col. Eugene F. Smith, all of whom are present or former members of the State militia, and Frank Cox of the G. A. R.

Shortly before the close of this very pleasant part of the evening's progarm, Capt. Nash announced that Mrs. Bartlett had presented the picture before mentioned to the Norway company to be hung in the armory, and in the name of the company, in a few well chosen words thanked Mrs. Bartlett for the remembrance. Major Bradbury followed, speaking of the bravery of Capt. Bartlett while very ill in camp and thanked Mrs. Bartlett in behalf of the camp of Spanish-American War Veterans which had been named in honor of her husband.

The tables were then removed and seats placed in position for the evening's entertainment. Beside some of the best local talent, was one who has appeared before a Norway Lodge's audience, Edward J. Quinn of Portland. At every appearance last Friday evening he received an encore and is a marked favorite with an audience wherever he apite with an audience wherever he appears. The local talent which took part was also of the best and that they pleased the audience was evidenced by the persistent hand clapping until they responded. The program was as follows, each number of which received one and some two encores.

Chapter of Bisbee History.

Thomas Bisbee came from Sandwich, England, and brought his son Elisha Bisbee with him, landing at Scituate, Mass., 1634. Elisha Bisbee married and soon afterward moved to Marshfield, Mass. His children intermarried with my ancestors, the Bournes of Marshfield, Mass. His son married Joanna Brooks in 1687. Their son was Charles Bisbee who married Beulah Howland of Marshfield.

This Charles Bisbee and wife, nee Beulah Howland was a descendant of John Howland of the Mayflower from whom George R. Drake, recently deceased in Medway, Mass., is 8th descendant. He came with seven children from Scituate, Mass., in winter, in a packet to Yarmouth, Me., 1784. They made the journey from Yarmouth to Sumner, Me., on foot and horseback, following a spotted path through the wilderness. In June they arrived and founded the famous old "Bisbee Farm," in Sumner, Me.

This Charles Bisbee had two sons destined to become famous in the annals of Oxford county, viz., Rowse Bisbee and John, his brother. Rowse married Hannah Carryl of Sumner and had several sons and daughters, among them were:

1. Desire, who married William Chamberlin, parents of Enos Cushing Chamberlin of Bridgton, Me., and of Dr. Austin Beverley Chamberlin of Galveston, Tex., now residing in Washington, D. C.

2. Sophronia, married Joel Perham, parents of Ex-Governor Sidney Perham, now living in Washington, D. C., also of Kilborn Perham, now living in Woodstock, also of Mrs. Betsey Rowe, living in Brentwood, L. I, and of Mrs. Cynthia Lapham, of Augusta, widow of Dr. William B. Lapham, the historian; Joel Perham of Boston, and Mrs. Viana Churchill of Norway.

The brother of Rowse Bisbee, "Uncle Johnny" Bisbee of Sumner married Sarah Philbrick. Their eighth child, Desire Bisbee married William H. Drake of Buckfield, afterward of Paris Harbor, Me. Their son was Geo. R. Drake recently deceased in West Medway, Mass., Dec. 1901.

George R. Drake was born in Sumner, Me, Jan. 13, 1829. He first married Mary J. Ricker of Sumner, who died in 1856, leaving one child who also died many years ago, aged eight years.

His second wife was Maria B. Austin who with one daughter, Mrs. Fales, of West Medway, and with one grandson, Harold, survive him.

George R. Drake was in company with his father some years in trade at North Paris, Me. The first year of the Civil War he enlisted in a Massachusetts Regiment. After serving his full time of enlistment he returned to Medway, Mass. For some years he was a foremost citizen of Medway, serving in many prominent official positions with distinguished ability.

In Sumner, Me., he was for years a successful business man and tax collector. In this capacity, in Medway, Mass., he was the most successful collector on its honorable records. Geo. R. Drake was also for a long time a director of Medway Savings Bank. He was a stalwart son of the Pine Tree State. His life was a most successful and honorable one. Oxford county had no more honorable son.

DR. JEFF. CUSHING GALLISON.

Make Spools For the World.

Women all over the world are unwinding thread from spools turned from the white birches that grow upon the high ridges of northern Maine, where once stood big pines or spruces. Not many years ago, the white birch was regarded as a sort of nuisance, and every one regretted that such a wood had taken the place of the better trees, the spruce and pine that had always been the State's resources, but now that a great industry has been built up from the birch forests, the silver-barked tree is looked upon as a treasure to be prized among Maine's best. A great variety of things are made from white birch timber, but spools and spool bars are the chief products, and of these the State turns out more than a million dollars' worth every year.

The manufacture of spools in Maine began soon after the passage of the Morrill tariff bill in 1861. The bill advanced the duty on wound threads, and was without doubt the reason the Scotch manufacturers of thread came to this county and built mills in New Jersey and Rhode Island. Then other American companies were formed.

The white birch area is a wide belt that extends entirely across Maine. No estimate has yet been completed of the number of acres of white birch timber in the State, but under the direction of the forestry commissioner an estimate of the acreage of the different kinds of Maine woods is now being repressed.

Oxford county has her share in this industry. The following places and firms are engaged in the spool business. Kezar Falls, J. M. Merrifield & Sons; Locke's Mills, E. L. Tibbetts & Co.; Bryant's Pond, J. F. Dearborn; Bethel, J. P. Skillings; Dixfield, John S. Harlow; Dixfield, Geo. L. Merrill & Co.; North Waterford, Elliott & Bartlett.

Poverty and Prosperity.

The life of the unskilled laborer may be divided into five periods of poverty and prosperity: First, a period of want in childhood; second, a period of prosperity, when the laborer begins to earn money and has no children to support; third, poverty, until his children begin to earn money; fourth, prosperity, while the children are earning money and while the father is still able to work; fifth, poverty, when the children have families of their own and the parent's working power is past.

The issue of The Outlook for June 7th, is the Thirteenth Annual Recreation Number. The leading features are "Hunting Big Game with the Camera," by A. G. Wallihan; "When You Meet a Bear," by W. J. Long; "Mountain Climbing," by Charles E. Fay; "Camping for Women," by Martha Coman; "Lost in the Woods," by George Kennan; "Behind the Guns," by James Barnes; "The Salmon Leap," (a beautiful picture illustrating a passage from Izaak Walton); and "Winning a Y," by Walter Camp.

A Sermon.

Ezekiel ix, 11: I beheld a man clothed with linen, who had an ink horn by his side, who reported matter."

The ink horn and the powder horn have both occupied conspicuous places in the history of the world. Out of the one have come fire and smoke and blood and death, and that subtle power which makes the battleship tremble on the wave and inspires the regiment in the fight.

THE REPOTER UBIQUITOUS.

The reporter is ubiquitous. He is everywhere, and if not, wishes to be everywhere. He knows everything, and if not, wishes to know everything, which is a laudable ambition. In the battle at Manila Bay he stands beside Admiral Dewey; at Santiago and in Cuba he is on the firing line. When one is wanted to investigate the mysteries of the Dark Continent it is a newspaper man who is selected. He treads his way through the ice floes of the Arctic, descends into the bowels of the earth, goes up in a balloon towards the stars and touches with his manifold nature this manifold life of ours. It is therefore, a source of satisfaction to report his progress from the more commonplace tasks of the reporter to the distinction of the writer of books. As the butterfly, by the laws of evolution, escapes from the chrysalis, so does the reporter evolve into the literary man. The list is long and illustrious. Rudyard Kipling, whose language sometimes is concealed under the rugged style of Carlyle, and then sweeps out into the depth and breadth of Milton, and then with a sudden turn approximates the majesty of Shakespeare, was a newspaper reporter. George Augustus Sala, once connected with the London Telegraph, a writer on revolutions, and who distinguished himself on the lecture platform, was a writer of books. His predecessor, Charles Dickens, was a newspaper man and became the incomparable novelist of the English world.

POSITION OF INFLUENCE.

The man with the ink horn is influential. He occupies a position of more influence than the teacher, the doctor, the actor, the lawyer and even the minister. When he takes his place in the editorial chair he is able to place his finger on the pulse of the world. He is in the very heart of civilization. Around him surge the tides of influence. Journalism has the advantage over all other professions because of a peculiar influence. Wendell Phillips made two remarks which indicate this. He once said that the New York penny newspapers governed the administration at Washington. Addressing a roaring mob on one occasion he paused long enough to say to the reporters, "You may howl if you will, but through these pencils I speak to forty millions of people," and the following morning the millions read his words. Napoleon Bonaparte said he feared four newspapers more than one hundred thousand soldiers. Newspapers make and unmake men. They made Henry Ward Beecher and Dr. Talmage and put Chauncey Depew in the American Senate. During the attempt to make the treaty of Amiens, an English reporter named Coleridge succeeded in disturbing all Europe and imperiling the treaty, and as a result he was captured by the cooperation of both governments on the ship that was bringing him from Italy to England. The peace of Europe depended on the capture of this humble journalist.

The man with the ink horn stands high among the moral forces of this century, conspicuous among the professions. He occupies a position of sacred responsibility. Let us hope that the morning light will steal into his ink horn and find expression through his pen.

"A Cinderella of the Blackberry Patch," in the New England Magazine for June, is one of William McLeod Raine's brightest stories. This Denver author is coming into notice as a writer of clever and unusual short stories, and his work is to be found only in the leading magazines of the country.

WHAT HAS BEEN GOING ON IN THE GULCH RECENTLY.

A Bunch of Interesting and Lively Items From the Pen of a Western Editor, Who Always Writes Without Fear or Favor.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.]

Uncle Jim Wheeler has got back from Salt Lake. He calculated to make his home there, but as he stutters and as he was shot at four times in one week for s-s-stut-tut-tuttering he decided to c-c-come back to the G-G-Gulch.

who thinks it a part of our duties as postmaster can complain to the postmaster general and be hanged to him!

An individual known as "Kansas Tom" got out of town last Monday night just ten minutes too quick for the vigilance committee, and if he keeps up the gait he had on him when he left his neck will be safe for some time to come.

The only soft drink to be found in this town on a hot day is made of nitric acid, lemons, sour milk and a dash of red ink, and the only choice left is between water and whisky. However, one can't always have a barroom of his own in this world.

There is not much to record in social events this week. The only event of importance was the high tea given by Mrs. Colonel D'Arens, and owing to some mistake in the highness of the tea many of the guests did not get home till afternoon next day.

Old Joe Wheeler, the bear hunter, sends us word from his cave in the mountains that he is coming down some day next week to shoot a few of the townspeople and have a jolly good time for a couple of days. Come on, Joseph. This town is always ready for something new and lively.

We understand that Major Callahan, who used to be a resident of this Gulch, has come to his end at Santa Fe. He ordered burned gin at a saloon over there, and the bartender burned too many holes in it, and there was a row. Then he burned a hole through the major.

In a little dispute over at Wolf Creek the other day between our horse editor and the foreman of XXX ranch our horse editor got the bullets into him and is obliged to take a vacation for two or three months. Any one who wishes to fill the position temporarily is assured of $6 per week and the loan of a gun.

A florist from Chicago who was here the other day says that the 2,000,000 acres of desert land in Arizona could be made to grow $20,000,000 worth of roses every year. We'd like to see the cactus, the rattlesnake and the prairie dog hitching along to make room for roses.

As mayor of the town we had to veto the proceedings of the common council for last Friday night, and as a private citizen we had to throw Alderman Raynor out of The Kicker office when he called on Tuesday and used language unbecoming a gentleman. The report that his leg was broken as he fell among the old barrels is without foundation.

Joe Baker, who lives over on Panther creek, called upon us yesterday to say that he had discovered what appears to be a mine of condensed milk and that he is now looking around for a mine of canned coffee to match it. You can find most anything you want in this territory. M. QUAD.

Their Pet.

A little man who pretended to be very fond of his horse, but kept him nearly starved, said to a friend: "You don't know how much we think of that horse. I shall have him stuffed so as to preserve him when he dies."

"You'd better stuff him now," retorted his friend, "so as to preserve him living."

Would Like to Have a Crack at It.

"Fame," said the man with the melancholy eye, "is but an empty bubble."

"Yes," answered the friend with long hair, "but every man has the idea that if he could get hold of it he could turn it into a dirigible balloon."—Washington Star.

In the Washington Monument.

Few of the thousands of visitors to the Washington monument have the disposition to climb its 900 steps. It is much easier to ride on the elevator, which makes the ascent of the tall column in about eight minutes. But visitors who walk one way, either up or down, are well rewarded by a near view of the inscriptions on the memorial tablets.

One hundred and seventy-six of these tablets were contributed by various societies, lodges, cities, states, foreign countries and private individuals. The variety of their inscriptions attests the wide reach of the influence of Washington.

The Association of Journeymen Stonecutters of Philadelphia, under the emblems of their trade, inscribe on their tablet "United We Stand." Westmoreland county, Va., describes itself simply as "The Birthplace of Washington." Greece, the "Mother of Ancient Liberty," sends from the Parthenon "This Ancient Stone as a Testimony of Honor and Admiration."

The Turkish inscription, it is said, was written by the court poet and bears a date in a "year of the Hegira." One of the longest inscriptions appears on a stone presented by some Chinese Christians of Che Heang, China, in 1853. It declares George Washington to have been braver than Tsau-Tsau or Lin-Pi.

A likeness of Shakespeare stands out on a stone at the twenty-sixth landing, as the short level spaces between the flights of stairs are called, bearing these words above, "All that live must die," and below, "A tribute of respect from the ladies and gentlemen of the dramatic profession of America."—Youth's Companion.

Paderewski's Rebuke.

A touching tale comes from London, of interest to all boarding school girls the world over, of how Mr. Paderewski at a recent evening party in London where he played remarked: "They made me feel quite nervous! I like women to be dignified!" This after certain frenzied feminine members of the audience stood on chairs to watch and even grabbed his hand and kissed it as he passed out of the room. Poor Paddy! And poor hysterical admirers of his! How few dignified women has he ever met in the course of his matinee career, and how strange it is that many an ordinarily phlegmatic woman should find herself enthusiastic to the verge of silliness in his presence! It is something of a comfort, however, to discover that the American women are no worse over him than are the English.—Kansas City Times.

A Hard Struggle.

Doan's Kidney Pills,

A Modern Medicine for Every Kidney Ill.

Mr. T. H. Hughes, of Saxtons River, Vt., employed by B. F. Locke & Co., says: "My kidneys did not act properly for years, and it gradually grew on me. For two or three years they troubled me very much with a dull, aching pain across my back and in my loins. If I stood on my feet for any length of time, I felt the pain across my back more and my legs became numb. When the pain in my back got so bad that I could stand it no longer, I put on plasters, and I used a great many of them, but they only afforded me temporary relief. I also used medicines of all kinds, but they did not reach the cause. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and so well recommended, that I was induced to give them a trial, and I got them at Andrew's drug store. They gave me immediate relief. After the treatment I seldom felt any symptoms of my former troubles, but when I did I took a few of Doan's Kidney Pills and it soon left me. My rheumatic pains were not so severe, and I did not have that tired, languid feeling. I had more energy in doing my work and give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills. They did me a great deal of good, and I feel justified in recommending them to others as a good and reliable medicine."

The case of David L. Holden of Otisfield, nephew of "Uncle" Joseph W. Holden, the well-known Otisfield astronomer, has been decided. The nephew sued the estate for $96.45, which he claimed was due him for care and board of the uncle, cutting his hair, shaving him and waiting upon him in his declining years. An itemized bill was introduced in the trial. Judge Bonney has rendered judgment for the plaintiff in the amount of $34.25.

The peace treaty was signed and the terms of surrender agreed upon in South Africa, Saturday night. The terms are:

The burgher forces lay down arms and hand over rifles, guns and ammunition of war in their possession or under their control.
All prisoners are to be brought back as soon as possible to South Africa without loss of liberty or property.
No action is to be taken against prisoners, except where they are guilty of breaches of the rules of war.
Dutch is to be taught in the schools, if desired by the parents, and used in the courts, if necessary.
Rifles are allowed for home protection.
Military occupation is to be withdrawn as soon as possible and self-government substituted.
There is to be no tax on the Transvaal to pay cost of war.
The sum of three millions sterling ($15,000,000) is to be provided for restocking farms.
Rebels are to be tried according to the law of the colony to which they belong.
The rank and file will be disfranchised for life.
The death penalty will not be inflicted.

The Philippines Law.

Here are the chief points in the bill for the government of the Philippines as provided in the bill passed by the Senate:

The government of the Philippines as established is approved.
The bill of rights in the United States Constitution, except to bear arms and to trial by jury, is extended to the Filipinos.
The Filipinos are to be citizens of the United States.
A census of the islands shall be taken when the insurrection is ended.
Representative governments of the cities and provinces are to be established.
The Philippine Commission shall control all the land in the islands and make rules to dispose of it.
Corporations cannot engage in agriculture unless authorized.
The friar lands shall be acquired and may be disposed of by the United States.
The United States Supreme Court may review the decision of the Supreme Court of the islands.
Manila is authorized to borrow $4,000,000 for water and sewer systems.
The Philippine government may grant franchises for public works, but if granted to corporations they are subject to review by Congress.
A mint shall be established in Manila.
The coinage laws of the United States are extended to the islands. The Philippine government may coin a silver dollar and subsidiary coin, and silver certificates may be issued for deposits of Filipino dollars.
A division of insular affairs is established in the war department.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Rev. H. A. Philbrook will preach here next Sunday at 3 p. m.

The ladies of the Universalist Circle at Grange Hall, Friday evening, June 6. Music by Packard's orchestra. Ice cream and cake at intermission.

That Tired Feeling

Is a Common Spring Trouble.

It's a sign that the blood is deficient in vitality, just as pimples and other eruptions are signs that the blood is impure.

It's a warning, too, which only the hazardous fail to heed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove it, give new life, new courage, strength and animation.

They cleanse the blood and clear the complexion.

Accept no substitute.

"I felt tired all the time and could not sleep. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a while I could sleep well and the tired feeling had gone. This great medicine has also cured me of scrofula." Mrs. C. M. Roor, Gilead, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

N. Palmer and wife visited her sister, Mrs. Nancy Gary in Yagger, and Mr. Palmer visited his son, C. W. Palmer at Norway village, last week.

Fred G. Kneeland, esq., of Bridgton gave the Memorial address on Memorial Day. Mr. Kneeland is one of our smartest young men, one of whom any town may well feel proud. Although he was born in Sweden he came here when so young we claim him as our own. He is the youngest man who has ever delivered this important address and it showed deep thought and high scholarship, as well as loyalty to country.

NORTHWEST BETHEL.

Mrs. Joseph Rucher and son from Auburn are visiting in this place.

Sumner Rolfe of Colebrook, N. H., visited at T. S. Flint's recently.

LOVELL.

Antiquarian Supper.

An antiquarian supper and entertainment was given on Thursday evening at the American House by the Ladies' Library Club. A fine supper of viands of the olden time (and which have not lost their flavor yet) was served in the dining-hall. There were the old songs with singers both young and old. Many of the ladies and some of the men were arrayed in fetching costumes. The concert was followed by a dance, music by Robinson's Orchestra of Fryeburg. There was a large number in attendance and a very fine time was had.

N. B. Dresser is at work at Chatham for S. H. Harriman.

Monday night was the first regular meeting of Lake Kezar Encampment, No. 26, I. O. O. F. Quite a number were over from North and West Fryeburg, coming Monday and returning on Tuesday.

B. E. Brown and wife and L. E. Harmon and Miss Abbott came home, Thursday night, and went directly to the cottages on the lake. They returned on the early train, Monday. Harry Sturtevant has been at work on Brown's cottages for a number of weeks. They have been painted green with white trimmings and the effect in the grove is pronounced very fine. There were 12 new summer cottages to be added to the valuation list, this year.

ANDOVER.

Happy Surprises.

The annual meeting of the Congregational society was held, May 28th. About sixty were there to dinner, which was of the fluest as only the Andover ladies can prepare. At 2 p. m. was the annual roll-call of the church, to which more than forty responded either by letter, message or verse of Scripture. The officers were all reelected. A chorister was appointed, Rev. J. A. Waterworth, and his daughters and Miss Eliot as assistants. In the evening a rally was held when reports of the different organizations of the church were read, stating the finances of each. The Rev. Mr. Waterworth presented Miss A. M. Eliot with an envelope containing money, a present from the ladies' circle in appreciation of her services as organist for the past three years. This was a complete surprise to Miss Eliot, who thanked Rev. Mr. Waterworth in behalf of the ladies' circle. Then Mrs. Tom French was presented with five pieces of silver in recognition of the valuable services of herself and husband in the church music on all and every occasion. Mrs. French extended thanks. She will soon remove to Massachusetts and the people wished to show their appreciation before her departure.

We had quite a shower, Monday afternoon.

Mr. Perry of Boston and friends are at the Milton Hotel.

Rev. G. B. Hannaford preached at the Methodist church, last Sabbath.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. French arrived at John French's hotel, Wednesday, May 28.

Several members of the Colby Post, G. A. R., attended Memorial services at Rumford Center, May 30th.

Sara Bailey was to entertain the Congregational circle at Union Hall on Tuesday, May 27th, which proved very rainy and it was postponed.

May baskets have been plenty. Some of our neighbors had one on Saturday evening. Evidently the parties wished to improve their last chance.

The Oxford County Conference met on Tuesday and Wednesday at North Norway. Three delegates were chosen to represent the Andover church.

The teachers and pupils of the public schools are getting up an operetta to be given some time in June. It is entitled "Mother Goose." This is for the benefit of the graduating class.

KEZAR FALLS.

Memorial Day.

Memorial day was celebrated here last Friday. The Daniel A. Bean Post, G. A. R., No. 160, of Brownfield united with our veterans in the services of the day. The school children here and at South Hiram also assisted in the exercises, marching with the veterans to the cemeteries and helping decorate the graves with flags and flowers.

At South Hiram there were addresses by Rev. Mr. Potter, Rev. Mr. Greenhalge Mr. Warren of Daniel A. Bean Post, Mr. Tanson, Albert Fox, Esq., and an address and benediction by the Chaplain of the Post.

The addresses were interspersed with singing patriotic airs. Dinner was served at South Hiram to the veterans and school children.

Elijah Fox of Haverhill is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Pillsbury and her daughter Abbie arrived here last Saturday.

Myrtle Stacy, who has been attending school at North Porsonsfield academy, is at home sick.

Milton Varney has a pair of trained steers, one year old next September, for which he has been offered two hundred dollars.

EAST HEBRON.

The church conference was well attended last Sabbath.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Thomas and daughter Helen of Oxford spent last Saturday with Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Marshall.

Clara Washburn returned home from Quincy last week. She left for Quincy before Christmas and has passed a large portion of the time with her niece, Mrs. Lemual Greene.

Rev. L. D. Tibbetts not only has charge of the Small Point church in the forenoon but of the Popham church in the afternoon, giving more salary and work than at first anticipated.

Mary Warren returned to her sister's, Mrs. R. P. Fuller's, last Thursday, from Virginia, where she passes cold seasons on account of poor health. Her health is some better, but still she needs more strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Rawson of Paris Hill passed Decoration day at W. A. Record's. In the afternoon Mr. Rawson attended the game of base ball on the hill between the married and single men. The singles came off victorious and were highly elated.

Sunday school was reorganized last Saturday. The same officers of last year were again elected:

Supt.—I. F. Saunders.
Asst. Supt.—F. E. Whiting.
Sec.—E. F. Whiting.
Librarian—A. A. Keene.
Teachers—Rev. Mr. Kelley, W. H. Berry, Mrs. E. F. Whiting, Mrs. S. H. Shaw, Mrs. S. H. Bonney.

BUCKFIELD.

Packard--Davee.

T. S. Bridgham, esq., was called in an official capacity, Sunday, to attend a wedding at the home of Wm. Davee on South Hill, to unite in the bonds of matrimony Caroline Packard and Fred G. Davee. The squire reports a good company, good treat, ice cream, etc., and moveover he kissed the bride.

Mrs. Wallace Tuttle is quite poorly.

Stanley Damon of Norway is visiting his people here.

Amial Jones of Somerville is visiting his old neighbors.

Ex-Secretary John D. Long arrived here, Tuesday afternoon.

Stanley Bisbee and family of Rumford Falls were in town, Friday.

Ella Warren was up from Portland to visit her parents over the Sabbath.

Byron Libby of Auburn visited his brother, A. W. Libby, Memorial Day.

Susie Dunham of Auburn visited her parents, Friday, returning on Monday.

Mrs. Hardy, a former resident of this place, is staying with Mrs. Jeanette Atwood.

G. H. Hersey is righting and renovating the buildings he recently purchased of the Misses Dean.

Monday, Rev. Mr. Munson took the morning train for Fairfield to give an address before a minister's meeting.

Manufacturer Robinson and Mr. Faunce of Oxford were in town calling on the delegates to the Republican convention soon to come off.

Supt. Bradford of the Turner Center creamery, Auburn, with A. F. Tilton went to Byron, Saturday, returning on Monday with 400 trout.

Mrs. Carrie Spaulding, Mrs. Benj. Gerrish and Mrs. Anna Pike were elected delegates to the convention to be held at Norway, June 12 and 13.

Miss Merritt, a young lady from Worcester, Mass., is visiting her cousins, the Misses Dean. We hear flattering reports of her rendering of a solo, Sunday, at the Baptist church.

Benj. Gerrish is grading his lot on High street. There are some pretty lawns on that street. There seems to be one bone of contention, whether to let suckers run up the sewers or no.

At an election of officers, May 29th, the W. C. T. U. elected

Pres.—Mrs. Benj. Spaulding.
Vice-pres.—Mrs. Carrie Spaulding, Mrs. Julia Harlow.
Sec.—Mrs. Jennie Irish.
Treas.—Mrs. Julia Packard.

Memorial proceedings were of the regular order in the forenoon of decorating the graves of soldiers. At 1.30 p. m., the march to Nezinscot hall was taken up, led by fife and drum. The program was first music followed by exercises by the school children, after which an address by Tascus Atwood, esq., of Auburn, which was greatly appreciated.

HARRISON.

Smart Old Lady.

Aunt Phoebe Haskell is one of our exceptionally smart old ladies. She is ninety-four years of age and is able to read and sew without the aid of glasses. She walked to a neighbors and back, recently, a distance of nearly a mile.

Road commissioner Thomas is running the road machine.

A. F. Davis and family, Mrs. Ames and family of Temple Hill, and Mrs. Cole of Portland, who is visiting Mrs. Ames, took a picnic dinner and spent the day Sunday at Summit Spring. Mr. Caswell who has charge of the property, opened the house for them. It seems wicked to see such an establishment standing idle. It is fitted up with the best of furniture, a fine piano and a billiard table. A day can be spent there very pleasantly.

Edith Jordan is quite sick with pneumonia.

Geo. S. Pitts was called to Bartlett, Saturday, by the illness of his daughter's family.

Miss Berry of West Paris, formerly a teacher in the village schools here, is visiting Mrs. A. F. Whitney.

Over two hundred volumes have recently been added to the library of the Congregational Sunday school.

Among coming events, this week, is a lecture by Sheriff Pearson on Friday evening at the Free Baptist church.

Decoration Day was fittingly observed by John A. Logan Post. At 9 a. m. the Post marched to the cemetery escorted by a fife and drum corps from Kezar Falls and followed by the village school children. Here the usual services were carried out. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by Mrs. G. N. Spaulding. At 10 o'clock the people assembled at the Free Baptist church and listened to a fine address by Rev. H. A. Philbrook of Bridgton on the subject, "The Heroic Life." Appropriate music was furnished by a chorus choir under the direction of W. S. Dudley. After the exercises all were invited to the vestry, where a bountiful dinner was served.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The sermon before the graduating class of the Norway High School occurred at 2.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, at the Universalist church. In front of the pulpit was a large bank of choice potted plants, above was a white banner with ribbons and '02 in their class color, royal purple. Nearly every seat in the church was taken and the people listened with marked attention. The singing was by a quartette composed of Mrs. Frank Kimball, Mrs. Charles Smiley, C. W. Horne and V. M. Whitman. Mr. Whitman rendered a solo. The singing was fine and appropriate to the occasion.

Rev. C. E. Angell's sermon was on "Supremacy of Character." It was a heartfelt sermon and if the young people never practice anything else than just what she pointed out to them, they will save themselves a good deal of trouble and make of their lives a large success. Some of the ideas she brought forth prominently were that character was one of the highest attributes. It comes from within and cannot be acquired by outside surroundings or bought any more than an education can be bought. Each individual must earn it. No positions of responsibility (with large salaries attached) come by luck. The ones to fill them have to spend years in study, sacrifice and thought in order to be fitted for the work, and be able to conduct and control the work after they are fitted. When some one acquires such a position and we are led to exclaim "How lucky he is!" or "What luck!" it is not luck at all, but has been earned. We have got to fight anyway. If we fight against character, against goodness, truth and christianity, we shall fight just the same and will receive what we fight for—evil, unrest and in many cases dishonor. If we fight for it we shall also receive what we fight for. It is for every one to make his life what he chooses.

Bartlett Kavanough.

Bartlett Kavanough died quite suddenly at his residence in Portland, Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Kavanough, who was 72 years of age, had an apoplectic shock about four o'clock and died before six o'clock. He leaves a widow and three sons, A. J. Kavanough, who is in business at Oxford, and Geo. F. and C. W. Kavanough, the West End shoe men of Portland. The deceased was a member of Oxford Lodge, F. & A. M., of Norway, and was buried under Masonic auspices at Oxford at four o'clock on Friday.

Fred Perry has returned to Berlin.

Mrs. Albert Gray of Harrison is visiting at George A. Brooks'.

Burton Truman is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Truman.

Most of the stores in Norway village were closed a part or all Memorial day.

Mrs. Alma Pendexter Hayden is having her poems published in book form.

Dr. J. Cushing Gallison writes he intends to visit his Maine friends before long.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cole and Anne Cole of Portland were in Norway the past week.

Sarah Booker has returned home from Poland, where she has been teaching school.

Cora Shedd and Clydie Wescott have gone to Attleboro, Mass., to teach the rest of the year out.

Arthur Richardson, an enthusiastic young fisherman of this place, is in Sodom on a week's fishing trip.

Oren Tubbs has been in Gorham, N. H., seeing to making some repairs on buildings that he owns there.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bates and L. C. Bates of New Haven, Conn., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Curtis.

Cars were run between Norway and Paris on the 15-minute schedule on Memorial Day for the first time this season.

H. D. Abbott, who has been foreman in the packing room of the Berlin shoe factory for the past two years, has resigned and taken a position with the Radcliffe Shoe Co.

Arthur Hayden is "breaking-in" in the art of waiting on customers in Leveroni's fruit store. He couldn't have started in a better place. Arthur will work in the store during his summer vacation.

Norway people will be glad to hear that H. Price Webber and his Boston Comedy Company have just closed the most successful tour he has ever enjoyed in Cape Breton. Mr. Webber enjoys the unique distinction of making money in the "show business."

It has been suggested that if the town is not to sell the old seats taken out of the upper primary or otherwise advantageously dispose of them, that they, with the permission of the owner, put the seats in suitable places in Ordway Grove that the public may have the benefit of them.

Capt. J. Waldo Nash and Ralph I. Trask came from the Lakes to take part in the Memorial exercises held here Friday. Capt. Nash commanded Company D. which acted as escort to the G. A. R. and Mr. Trask is a member of the local camp of Spanish-American War Veterans.

Letter to John Wyman.

Norway, Me.

Dear Sir: John P. Hermance, of Rhinebeck, N. Y., who is famous for keeping his handsome farm buildings in perfect condition, paints Devoe; won't use any other paint.

Some neighbors of his, who prefer lead and oil, paint twice as often. It costs them twice as much and their buildings look only about half as fresh.

Yours truly,
49 F. W. DEVOE & Co.

P. S. F. P. Stone sells our paint in your section.

It is a terrible thing for a man to have so great a regard for the truth that he can't believe a fish story that is told him. It is terrible for a plain ordinary citizen to be thus afflicted, but when a newspaper man has it, it is worse—becoming little short of horrible.

The Cause of a Cold

Closing of Village Schools.

With the exception of the 8th and 9th grades and the high school all the schools in the village closed, last Friday. The high school and two upper grades of the grammar close this week Friday.

On Thursday evening of this week occurs the high school graduation and reception, and on Friday evening will be held the annual ball.

Upper Primary.

Mercy Millett is the teacher in this school. The pupils who have been promoted to the third grade are, Helen Bangs, Eula Bicknell, Alma Shepard, Katie Ward, Marian Gibson, Sara True, Margery Butler, Alma Kilgore, Earle Morse, Roland Thurston, Ned Shepard, Philip Richardson.

Those not absent one day, Philip Richardson, Frank Martel, Albert Martel, Katie Ward, Roland Mixer, Ruth Cummings. Roland and Ruth have missed only one day for the year.

School closed with playing games and a treat of ice cream and crackers, Thursday afternoon. The children moved the old seats, that were taken out of the schoolroom to give place to the new ones, out on the lawn in a circle and the teacher and her assistants served the eatables and superintended the playing.

Miss Millett received a number of presents from several of her little pupils.

Lower Primary.

Gertrude Gardner taught the lower primary, the past year. Those scholars who have not been absent at all or more than one day are Donald Andrews, Flora Bedard, Helen Dexter, Clayton Heath, Eugene Hill, Ronald Hussey, Samuel Klain, Etheline Lasselle, Alberta Martin, Anna Martin, Azola Pike, Merle Russell, James Ryerson and Alda Walker. Whole number registered, 45; average attendance, 41.

Those who were promoted are Helen Dexter, Alta Frost, Clayton Heath, Ronald Hussey, Samuel Klain, Roland Nevers, Edith Palmer, Azola Pike, Alice Pledge, Merle Russell, James Ryerson, May Smith.

The last day of the term was very pleasantly spent by the little folks. In the afternoon about twenty visitors came to hear the children recite poems and spent the afternoon. The children were treated to ice cream and cake by the teacher.

Middle Primary.

Hattie Cragin taught the middle primary. The scholars not absent one day were Marjorie Barker, Hazel Bicknell, Carroll Bartlett, Hubert Brooks, Benjamin Bailey, Frank Gammon, March Heath, Thomas Knowland, Willie Leavitt, Marion Parrance, John Stevens, Earl Stearns, Wallace Walker, Abraham Klain, Rupert Mixer. Whole number registered, 38; average attendance, 32.2.

Those who were promoted are Marjorie Barker, Emma Bonney, Delma Bonney, Hazel Bicknell, Frieda Bradbury, Carroll Bartlett, Hubert Brooks, Benjamin Bailey, Cyril Foster, Pearl Foster, Frank Gammon, March Heath, Willie Leavitt, Marion Libby, Rupert Mixer, Bernice Nash, Marion Parrance, Leslie Rowe, John Stearns, Nellie Snow, Francis Swett, Earl Stearns, Homer Truman, Herbert Woodsworth, Thomas Knowland, Ruth Kneeland, Frances Kimball, Merle Watson, Wallace Walker, Abraham Klain.

The teacher took the scholars to a trolley ride to South Paris in the afternoon.

Sixth Grade.

In the sixth grade, Clydie B. Wescott, teacher, the following were either perfect in attendance or not absent more than one day: Geneva Barker, Clara L. Farrar, Hattie E. Mains, Hattie M. Merrill, Walter C. Smith, Ruth C. Symonds.

Those named below are promoted into the grade above: Geneva Barker, Arthur R. Buswell, Robert Chapman, Hiram A. Calef, Mildred McLean, Hattie M. Merrill, Owen D. Rich, Lulu P. Rich, Rosamond Dunham, Clara L. Farrar, Hazel A. Foster, Ralph M. Freeman, Verne N. Gayton, Francis M. Haskell, Josie H. Hayes, Mildred J. Holmes, Lawrence Libby, Hattie E. Mains, Nellie B. McCrellis, Katherine P. Stone, Karl C. Stearns, Winnie F. Snow, Walter C. Smith, Ruth C. Symonds, Grace M. Thibodeau, Gerald A. Thompson, Gertrude M. Walker, Pansie Walker, Leah A. Wetherbee, Alton E. Whitehead.

Fifth Grade.

Annie Lafarier taught the fifth grade the past year and had one of the most successful schools in every way in town. The whole number registered was 41 and the average attendance 39.5. Out of the number attending during the term of ten weeks there were only seventeen cases of tardiness and every scholar was promoted with the exception of one who left before the close of school. Most of those attending are little folks and when this is taken into consideration we think they have done well.

There were twenty out of the number who were not absent one day, as follows: Oscar Burgess, Georgie Durben, Francis Danforth, Ollie Edgecomb, Guy Emery, Phillip Everett, Minnie Frost, Bartholomew Judkins, George Jordan, Velma Wentzel, Roland Kimball, Mildred Kelley, Marion Lafrance, Charles Mixer, George Merrill, Hugh Pike, Arthur Richardson, Eva Smith, Dorothy Tubbs, Don Whitney.

Those who were promoted are Mildred Bangs, Raymond Brooks, Gladys Buck, Oscar Burgess, Ronell Bicknell, Annie Bedard, Pearl Cook, Georgie Durben, Francis Danforth, Ollie Edgecomb, Guy Emery, Phillip Everett, Percy Fogg, Minnie Frost, Bertha Gammon, Clara Hathaway, Bartholomew Judkins, Geo. Jordan, Richard Knowland, Marion Lafrance, Howard Lasselle, Ollie Libby, Alice Maxim, Charles Mixer, George Merrill, Arthur Marshall, Hugh Pike, Roy Pratt, Arthur Richardson, Geneva Sturtevant, Eva Smith, Beatrice Stevens, Willie Snow, Dorothy Tubbs, Velma Wentzel, Roland Kimball, Mildred Kelley, Bernice Walker, Don Whitney, Fred Lafrance.

Fourth Grade.

Owing to the sudden departure of Cora B. Shedd, who has taught this school the past year, we are unable to publish the names of those who were promoted, but we herewith give those who were not absent one-half day:—Marjorie Slack, Edith Rideout, Mary Tobin, Frank Herrick, Ella Merrill, Donald Bartlett, Beryl Millett, Hubert Barker, Marion Smith, Julia Chamberlain, Eddie Chick, Austin McAllister, Clayson Walker. Edith Rideout did not miss a word in spelling during the year, and as she is the youngest one in her class it is surely an honor.

Thursday afternoon the advanced and middle primary chartered a car and went for a trolley ride and spent a very pleasant afternoon.

Seventh Grade.

The six taking the highest rank and above 98 in the first grammar school were Florence Rideout, Maud Pike, Walter Mann, Sarah Danforth, Harry Downing, Marion Farrar.

Those not absent one day:—Sarah Danforth, Harry Downing, Allie Fogg, Marion Farrar, Harry Horne, Jennie Mann, Walter Mann, Maud Mixer, Myrtle Millett, Homer Tubbs, Susie Walker.

Examinations were held the last day but on Saturday the school took a ride to Mount Mica, where they spent the day in searching for specimens and found several good ones, eating, making lots of noise and having a good time in general.

EAST STONEHAM.

Memorial Day.

Memorial Day was observed by Geo. F. Leppien Post, No. 136, G. A. R., in the following manner: Decoration of graves in the forenoon with the usual ceremonies, after which dinner was served at the vestry. Nearly two hundred and fifty persons partook of the dinner prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society.

There was a large number present from adjoining towns. Oxford Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Waterford, and members of the Rebekah Lodge were in attendance and marched in the procession to the cemetery. Many citizens and school children joined the procession. The day was cool and bracing, and flags were in great display.

The memorial address was delivered by Rev. J. W. Grindell of Lovell, and was patriotic and appropriate to the occasion, and gave general satisfaction.

Singing by North Waterford Quartet, and our thanks are due them for the pleasant manner in which they helped to make the day one to be remembered. There were recitations, also, and many things which might interest, but as I was not there, perhaps am unable to do the subject justice.

Rev. E. W. Pond preached the memorial sermon, last Sunday, the 25th. We regret that so few were in attendance, as the remarks made in Mr. Pond's sermon were excellent and very appropriate.

Stephen Charles of Fryeburg has been setting gravestones in some of the lots in this cemetery, the past week.

Almost every one had choice flowers and buds saved to bestow an offering of affection on Memorial Day; and it is well thus to cherish the memory of those gone before.

BRYANT'S POND.

Missionary Society.

Ethel Ford has returned from Boston. While there she attended the annual meetings of the Women's Baptist Home Missionary Society, which were held in the Ruggles street Baptist church. After the close of the meetings, she was present at the recitations, examinations and graduation exercises of the Gordon Missionary Training School of Clarendon street church. Miss Ford says: "For those who wish to fit themselves for Christian work, either home or foreign, the Gordon Missionary Training School is a most excellent school to attend."

Louisa Cole is in poor health.

W. G. Morton of Mechanic Falls was in town, Memorial Day.

Mrs. A. F. Chase of Kent's Hill returned home, last Wednesday.

Dr. Buckman of Portland is spending a few days at Ansel Dudley's.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Billings have set up housekeeping in their new home in the village.

M. A. Merrill of Brunel Higgins Co. of Portland is stopping at the Glen Mountain House.

Rev. Mr. Brown and wife spent last Friday with Rev. Mr. Cotton and wife in Norway.

The Thursday evening prayer meetings will now be held in the Baptist church through the summer at 7.30 o'clock. Through the winter and spring cottage prayer meetings were held very acceptably at the different homes.

Some members of the Baptist church with other interested friends have organized a Sunday school at North Woodstock. It is held every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. H. A. Brown will preach there June 8th at 2 30 p. m. The Sunday school will be before the sermon.

WEST BUCKFIELD.

Fred Bennett is at home.

James Richards and family have returned from Wilton.

Romanzo Lowe's new house is about ready for occupancy.

Fred and Herbert Cooper's mother passed away, last Friday. Funeral Sunday.

Dan Emery and family, Gertie and Vinia Bonney, Dastine Turner and wife were at Shirley Bonney's, Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Bonney is at home from North Buckfield, caring for her daughters, Jennie and Jessie, and her son's wife, who have all been sick but are gaining.

Postal Rule.

In accordance with a new postal rule, government postal cards that are enamelled, bronzed, or in any way defaced lose their character as postal cards hereafter and become subject to ordinary letter postage when they bear a written message, or to third class postage when they are all in print. This ruling is contained in the latest edition of the postal regulations. The ruling is thought to be the result of the recent disclosures regarding the ease with which such cards are counterfeited. Though the department had not discovered the maker of these bogus cards when this order was drawn, it has been known for a long time that such work was made possible, because persons were permitted to enamel uncanceled cards and thus use them, though they had been printed before. The local postmasters have been instructed to enforce this rule strictly.

eight months from suppressed menstruation, and it effected my entire system until I became weak and debilitated, and at times felt that I had a hundred aches in as many places. I only used the Compound for a few weeks, but it wrought a change in me which I felt from the very beginning. I have been very regular since, have no pains, and find that my entire body is as if it was renewed. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to everybody."—MISS ELIZABETH CAINE, 69 W. Division St., Fond du Lac, Wis.—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance for woman's ills of every nature.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address Lynn, Mass.

Have you seen the

NEW ADRIANCE BUCKEYE MOWER

They have all the latest improvements comprising Spring Draft, the best Foot Lift, a perfect Tilting Device, Roller and Ball Bearings where practicable and Brass Interchangeable Boxes for Pitman shaft, long Pitman rod with adjustable connections to take up the wear. Come and see a sample machine at my house and be convinced that they are the best mower made. We also sell the New York Sulky Hay Rake, any size for one or two horses, "none better." We can save you money on these machines. I also have for sale one six-foot cut McCormick mower almost new and a one-horse Worcester Buckeye in good condition. Old machines taken in exchange.

Do not forget about the Fire Extinguishers. The time for lightning fires is here, and you should have them.

We sell the U. S. Seperator. Have put out quite a number this spring. Dairymen are learning that it does not pay to do without them.

We have another lot of Fertilizers just come and are prepared to supply you.

You can get Buttermilk at Waterford Creamery now at 1c per gallon. There is plenty of it.

EAST HEBRON.

The Same as of Old.

Mrs. Alta Wiley from Vinalhaven is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fuller. We see no change in her in looks or remembrance of her old friends and associates.

Eva Decosta from West Minot is in the place.

Last Saturday was church conference in this place.

Perley Merrill is at home from Boston on a vacation of two weeks.

Frossia Ryerson is packing her goods, but has not decided just where she will locate yet.

Joseph Merrill goes to E. Sawyer's to work. He has been boarding with S. E. Brown of late.

Farmers are now in a hurry to get the seed planted, but few had planted their corn on account of cold weather.

Victor Decosta moved last week into the house recently sold by Algernon Ryerson to W. H. Berry and George Allen.

Rev. Mr. Kelley's goods are moved and the family are arranging to make a pleasant home among those not strangers to them.

Dexter Bailey from Dover recently gave his daughter, Mrs. Baker Philips, a surprise by walking in from the station at their back door without the least ceremony.

A Warning.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another.

Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It's a warning, too—and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once.

WOODSTOCK.

Chase District.

Walter Billings has taken a new wife, Ellen Gill, to his home. They have the best wishes of their friends.

G. L. Cushman and family with Dana O. Dudley and wife spend many happy days at their cottage near Locke's Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Felt attended the Sunday School Convention at Mechanic Falls, May 22d. On May 23d they went from Mechanic Falls to Rumford Falls and came home, Saturday night. Archie and Lena came with them. Lena went to West Poland on Tuesday. Archie D. Felt finished working for the P. & R. F. R. R. Co., last Saturday, having been there almost three years. Last Tuesday he began working for an Advertising Agency in Portland.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhœa, or summer complaint, if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest. 23-26

SOUTH CONWAY, N. H.

A Strong Smell.

Mr. Stott, has had a crew of men putting staining on Mrs. Nicholas' buildings. As it is creosote that they are using, one of the workmen thinks any one can smell them for ten miles.

L. L. Cook of Cornish spent Sunday here with his cousins.

Arthur Garland has gone to Sanbornville to work, where he has a job on the cars.

There are workingmen from Bridgton in the place, driving a well on Mr. Comstock's place.

George Grames, who is working at Brownfield spent Sunday at his home at Henry Willey's.

Quite a number from this place went to West Brownfield, to attend Ivory Cole's funeral.

Andrew Cole and family were called to West Brownfield, Sunday, the 25th, to attend his father's, Ivory Cole's, funeral.

Mrs. Clinton Cole of the Center House, Conway Center, spent two days as the guest of Mrs. A. T. Cole and Mrs. L. D. Mills.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY 48-1y

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

GILEAD.

Rev. Mr. Farrar preached at our church, Sunday May 25th.

Edith C. Farwell returned, Tuesday, May 20th, from a visit of several days in Bethel.

D. L. Austin reports himself as improving, though slowly. He is able to sit up and lie down unaided, and undress himself without assistance.

On Sunday night of last week there was an abundant rain. Monday, showery weather. The Androscoggin and Wild rivers have risen considerably, and we think the increase of water must be a help to the riverdrivers.

Miss Greene, who for a long time has been in the office of J. W. Bennett, has found her labors necessitated a rest, and has resigned her position. Miss Greene has not merely rendered faithful service to her employer, but will be remembered for her kind and valuable assistance in the choir and Sunday school.

Will D. Ladd.

Will D. Ladd of Dixfield died, May 26th, at the home of his brother-in-law, Leon G. Blunt, in Portland. Mr. Ladd was in Portland for treatment at the Maine General Hospital. It being found that little could be done for the patient except making him comfortable, he was taken to the home of Mr. Blunt, where his few remaining days in this life were made as endurable as possible through human agency. Mr. Ladd's sickness was diabetes. The interment was in the family lot at Dixfield.

SOUTH HARRISON.

Gone to Rhode Island.

R. Willis Fogg has gone to Westerly, R. I., to work on a milk farm.

Herman Thompson has a new corn planter.

Ella Thompson has a new gold watch and chain.

Mrs. Appleton Chaplin is visiting kinsfolk at the village.

George L. Carsley has sold his horse to Ed. Emerson of South Waterford.

Jameson Thompson and wife recently visited at George Adams' in South Paris.

Ed. Watson and family of Naples were guests at Simeon Pendexter's, Sunday, May 25th.

Martin Merrow, who has been sick for the past three months, is now able to be out again.

Eugene Johnson has bought the Simeon Pendexter farm and will move there in the near future.

Roy Johnson accompanied by Hacker Hall of Casco recently made a trip to Saco on their wheels.

Auldis Foster and wife of South Bridgton and John Clark and wife of Bridgton Centre recently visited at Herman Thompson's.

The ice cream festival and entertainment held at the hall of the Northern Cumberland Agricultural Society, on Friday night, was a perfect success. The proceeds amounted to $10.70, which goes for the benefit of the new church.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LOVELL.

Mrs. Colt and family will move into their new cottage in a few days.

Noah H. Palmer has rented his house to Mr. Umbsteatter of Boston, and is fitting up his carriage house in which to live.

Parker Post, G. A. R., attended divine service at the Christian church, Sunday. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Grindell, delivered an interesting and patriotic discourse.

John Kendall has bought the Benj. Andrews place and will take possession at once. Mrs. Andrews sold her household goods and miscellaneous articles at auction, Saturday. H. C. Barker of Bethel, auctioneer. Over $100 was realized from the sale.

The executive committee of the Handicraft Association met at the home of Owen Eastman, Tuesday evening, and organized in the choice of Mrs. Volk as director; E. S. Hatch, secretary, and Mrs. Sarah Charles, treasurer. Aug. 19 was decided upon as the date of holding their annual exhibition at the town hall, and all interested in the movement are invited to assist in making it a success by exhibiting something made by hand. Prizes will be given the younger people for excellence in handicraft.

Summer Schools for Teachers.

The Summer Schools for the present season will open at Fort Kent, July 7th; Foxcroft, July 14th; Canton, July 21st; Saco, July 28th. Each school will commence on Monday at 8.45 a. m., and will continue in session five days.

Arrangements have been made for thirty talks, lectures, addresses or conferences of fifty minutes each. The instructors will be Will S. Monroe of the Westfield, Mass., Normal School; Chas. H. Albert of the Bloomsburg Normal School, Pa., and Supt. George W. Twitmyer of Wilmington, Del.

For rooms, board, etc., address Nathan Reynolds, Canton, Me.

A Cheerful View.

"What damaging effect did the cold snap, a few weeks ago, have on fruit trees?" was a question asked one of Maine's successful orchardists.

"Not any, as far as my observation goes," was the answer. "I have examined many of the buds and found them all right."

"Didn't the early apple blossoms or buds suffer?"

"No, I think not, and I tell you there will be some apples, this year, the great bearing year you know, in most orchards."

Those Little Types.

A compositor in wrestling with the call for the Republican State convention requested all the electors "without regard to past political afflictions" to gather at the appointed time and place. A will recently offered for probate in a Western city contained a bequest of $60,000 to establish a home for "indignant old ladies." The will is to be contested, although every one knows that indigent old ladies was what the testator meant to write.

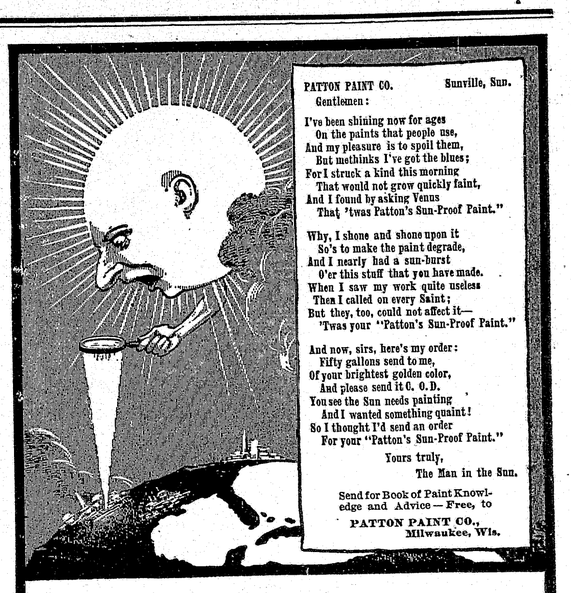

Well Informed on Home News.

A well-known lady in one of the "sister towns" says: "A relative of ours, a lady residing in Massachusetts, made us a visit a short time ago and knew a great deal more about what was going on right around here than we did. She talked of different people and of events that had taken place here as though she had been living here right along, and was much better informed on local affairs than we were, who had hardly been out of the town. She reads that Norway ADVERTISER. She seemed very much afraid lest her subscription should expire. She has taken the paper for a number of years."

Keep in touch with what is going on around you by subscribing for the Norway ADVERTISER. It gives you all the county news in a clear, concise manner and an amount each week that no other paper in or out of the county equals. One year $1.50; six months $.75.

Auction Sale at Hood's Farm.

Hood's Farm, Lowell, Mass., is so well-known to the readers of this paper that it is not necessary to go into details in regard to the quality of the stock owned at that great breeding establishment. June 11 and 12, they will sell to the highest bidder 180 head of Jersey cattle and 125 Berkshire hogs. This is the greatest sale of the kind ever held in New England. There is such a large number and many of the calves are so young, that those who do not wish to pay the high prices usually brought by registered stock will be able to get some very desirable individual at a great bargain.

A Very Profitable Conference.

The annual meeting of Oxford Congregational Conference was held Tuesday and Wednesday with the Norway Center church. Delegates were present from the churches as follows:

Andover—Dea. J. H. Bailey and wife.
Berlin—Rev. R. C. Flagg, Beatrice Streeter.
Bethel—Rev. C. N. Gleason, Dea. and Mrs. T. H. Chapman.
Gilead—Rev. W. H. Hotze.
Norway, First—Rev. B. S. Rideout, Horace Oxnard, Mrs. Izah Cox.
Norway, Second—Rev. B. S. Rideout, Dea. Osgood Perry, Dea. H. L. Plummer.
Oxford—Rev. Frederick Newport.
South Paris—Rev. W. E. Brooks, Dea. Henry Forbes, Mrs. L. W. Hathaway.
Rumford—Dea. J. K. Elliott.
Sumner—W. H. Eastman.
Rev. C. L. Parker, Yarmouth, representing Maine Missionary Society.

Officers were elected as follows:

Moderator—Dea. H. N. Bolster.
Scribe—W. H. Eastman.
Treasurer—H. N. Bolster.

There were many expressions of appreciation of the earnestness and faithfulness of both these men who have so long served the conference.

Rev. W. H. Hotze preached the sermon Tuesday. Text Mark 1:17. Theme "Fishers of Men." An able and inspiring discourse.

In the afternoon, Rev. Dr. Flagg took the topic, "What Constitutes a Prosperous Church?"

Rev. W. E. Brooks spoke upon "Is the Day of Revivals Past?"

Topic "Hindrances to Presence and Power of the Holy Spirit in our Churches" opened by W. H. Eastman, followed by Rev. Frederick Newport, was freely discussed.

The three topics of the afternoon brought out many deep and practical thoughts which were most uplifting and inspiring and were a great means of help to all who heard them, as the speakers spoke from their hearts of those things lying nearest them, in experience and knowledge of truth.

Rev. C. N. Gleason, the new Bethel minister took the topic, "Are We Living to Our Light; If not, Are We Living Hypocritical Lives?" No, though sometimes near it. Others spoke on the same subject and in the same line.

Missionary Parker spoke on, "The Growing Kingdom." There are bird christians, count appearances; bough christians, count results and seed christians who grow. Plea for a deeper and broader life and activity. He described the seed being sown in the state.

Wednesday morning the report of churches that were represented, showed them in hopeful and in most cases, growing condition. Plans are being carried into action for developing church work.

Report of county missionary work by Rev. C. L. Parker. The Magalloway churches are getting into working condition and will have a student pastor this summer. Buildings are being erected and considerable money is needed to help finish them. A needy field at Mexico is being cultivated to some extent.

Financial report by Dea. Bolster was accepted. The matter of finance was discussed at great length.

Responsibility of church members in Missions was the subject of a paper by Mrs. T. H. Chapman of Bethel.

H. L. Plummer of Norway spoke upon "the Christian Endeavor society as a factor in church work."

Rev. B. S. Rideout followed with an able exposition of the work of the Juniors and a plea for more of it.

The customary vote of thanks to local church for hospitality, to speakers and others for efforts made, to G. T. R. for transportation favors.

Place of next meeting, Oxford. Preachers, 1st, Rev. C. N. Gleason, alternate Rev. B. S. Rideout; 2d, Rev. W. E. Brooks, alternate to be chosen. Committee, Rev. Frederick Newport, Rev. B. S. Rideout and Mrs. Horace Hall of Oxford.

In the afternoon, Rev. Dr. Flagg preached from Psalm 119:32, Live largely, live righteously, live gloriously. Feeling for humanity must permeate all great men. Large-mindedness; largeness of soul.

Celebration of Lord's Supper presided over by Dr. Flagg. The Elements were distributed by Deacons Chapman of Bethel and Perry of Norway Second.

Benediction, adjournment.

The attendance was rather less than that of the meeting five years ago in the same church, and less than was hoped and planned for, but those who were there received a blessing and uplift that do not always come with numbers. The pressure of farm duties, the heat and showery weather may have kept many away who would have enjoyed and appreciated the gathering.

Dinner and supper Tuesday, and dinner Wednesday were served in the chapel by the ladies of the church. Delegates were entertained in the homes.

Speakers received the closest attention and their words and thoughts were discussed on every side.

The new men of the conferences are strong and able men, and are making friends among the clergy and laity by their manliness and Christian common sense.

The large-hearted hospitality of the people is proverbial and it lacked nothing from its earlier days.

The singing was very fine. A chorus of the young people, assisted by Rev. Mr. Newport, led. Mr. Newport sang solos each day in an impressive manner. Miss Dunn's sweet voice was spoken of highly.

WEST BETHEL.

W. D. Mills has bought him a horse.

We had a pleasant call at the home of Archie Heath, found him busy putting in the foundation for a new house.

We had a pleasant call at the home of Mary L. Mason. We found her busy as usual braiding rugs of which she has made quite a number.

Allan McLeod don't believe in hiring work done which he can do himself, especially shearing sheep, which he seemed proud in doing.

OXFORD.

Died Suddenly.

Bartlett Kavanaugh died very suddenly at his home in Portland, Weddesday, May 28. Mr. Kavanaugh had spent the greater part of his life in Oxford, coming here when a boy of 18, where he lived until his two younger sons entered business, which was about ten years ago. He then sold his farm here and moved to Portland. He was a faithful, consistent member of the Methodist church and was respected by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and three sons and many friends to mourn his loss. Funeral services were held at the home in Portland, Friday morning, also here at the home of his eldest son, Alpa Kavanaugh, in the afternoon, Rev. A. A. Callaghan officiating. He was 72 years old. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Interment was in Methodist cemetery.

S. H. Eaton went to Bridgton, last Sunday.

Blanche Lord is at home for a two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Benjamin Flood visited relatives in South Paris, last week.

Anson Holden and Hattie Andrews went to Norway on business, Tuesday.

The Pythian Sisterhood held a gentleman's night reception, Saturday evening.

Edwin Draper of Bridgton spent a part of last week with his friend, S. H. Eaton.

Hattie Andrews has been resting from her work in the woolen mill for the past two weeks.

Chester McAllister of Freedom. N. H., has recently spent a few days with relatives in town.

Mrs. S. H. Eaton is meeting with good success canvassing for nice perfumery, extracts, etc.

John and Joseph Trebilcock visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mason of Windham, the first of the week.

T. W. Lord and J. F. Pattee caught a large string of pickerel, Monday, some of them weighing two pounds each.

S. H. Eaton ordered a large supply of potted plants, which arrived here in fine condition for Memorial Day, which was duly observed in Oxford.

After the usual business meeting of the Sons of Temperance, Thursday evening, an entertainment was given. Strawberries and cream were served during the evening.

Heloise G. Hersey is thinking of going abroad, this summer. Miss Hersey is to lecture at the Massachusetts State Normal School, this month. She is one of the trustees of Vassar College and lectured there the past winter.

FRYEBURG.

Memorial Day.

Grover Post, No. 26, G. A. R., observed the day with proper exercises. In the morning, details of comrades decorated about 200 graves of the soldiers in the various cemeteries of Fryeburg and vicinity, afterwards the members of the Post gathered at their armory in Fryeburg village, where the dinner was served at noon.

At 2.15 o'clock in the afternoon the comrades and their friends gathered at the Congregational church. A large audience was in attendance. The decorations for this occasion were white lilac blossoms with their green foliage, and small flags which were tastily arranged. Patriotic music and the inspiring national airs of '61 were given by Robinson's orchestra. A quartette composed of H. Bushard, tenor; Mrs. C. W. Pike, soprano; Mrs. T. L. Eastman, alto; and C. G. Willard, basso; rendered fine vocal selections under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Abbott, the organist of the church. The address was delivered by one who served during the Civil war in the 8th Maine regiment, and who now belongs to the Grand Army of the Republic and the Loyal Legion. It was filled with heroic sentiments and noble spirit. Many of the residences of the citizens and many stores were decorated with bunting in honor of the day. The program was as follows with music by the orchestra:

Opening address.....Com. T. L. Eastman
Invocation.....Rev. B. N. Stone
Hymn—The Son of God Goes Forth to War.....Quartet
Reading of Scriptures.....Rev. Mr. Stone
Prayer.....Rev. H. A. Philbrook
Anthem—Be Still.....Quartet
Reading of Extract of Pres. Lincoln's Speech at Gettysburg.....Bertha Harriman
Memorial address.....Rev. H. A. Philbrook
Hymn—America.....Quartet
Benediction.....Rev. Mr. Philbrook

Minnie Bradley is in town.

Very refreshing shower, Monday evening.

The horse cars commenced running Monday, June 2d.

A. R. Jenness is having the post-office building shingled.

There were about thirty guests at the Oxford over Sunday.

Mr. Haskell of Windham with his wife has been spending a few days with Mary Howe.

Rev. Mr. Matthews from Newcastle preached at the Congregational church, last Sunday.

A. F. Lewis, esq., has returned home after spending nearly three months in Washington, D. C.

A young man by the name of Libby, who has supplied here two Sundays, has been engaged to preach the baccalaureate sermon, which will be at the Congregational church, Sunday evening, June 15th.

The people of this place have been saddened by the news of the sudden death, last Sunday, in Brownfield of Fred Stickney, who has worked for Z. O. Wentworth in the meat market here for two seasons.

A meeting was held at the New Church hall, Tuesday evening, June 3, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the establishing of that church in Fryeburg. Mrs. Hale Jacobs of Malden, Mass., the noted vocalist, was present and favored the company with a few selections.

The Red Men attended the New Church on June 1st in a body and listened to a very interesting and instructive sermon from the pastor, Rev. B. N. Stone. After returning to the hall they took up a collection amounting to $10.15, which was presented to the pastor as a slight token of regard and thankfulness for the beautiful sermon given.

SNOW'S FALLS.

Clara E. Berry went to Harrison, last week, to spend a week with friends.

Robert S. Benson came up from Brunswick, Memorial Day, and spent Sunday at home. He was accompanied by his room-mate, John H. Wyman of Skowhegan, Bowdoin '01, who is now a student in the Medical School of Maine.

Pomona Grange.

Pomona met this month with Frederic Robie Grange at Otisfield Gore. There was a good attendance, more than two hundred being present. Twenty-six candidates were initiated. The ladies' half hour was given to discussing the question, "Should mothers take more interest in school work?" Mrs. Ira Harriman of Oxford, Mrs. Rose Chute Johnson of Gorham and Mrs. Sabrina Jackson of Paris talked on this subject. They all thought that it would be beneficial to the teacher, the pupils and the school if more interest was taken. One of the ideas brought forward was that parents know more about their children than a teacher possibly could and her assistance and suggestions would be most valuable in shaping the education of her child.

Dinner was served in the new dining-hall down stairs. This has been enlarged by adding the store to the old dining-hall, fixing it all over and enlarging the kitchen. The seating capacity is about two hundred, ten at each table.

The upper hall was decorated with a handsome display of house plants and cut flowers. Music was furnished by the Frederic Robie Grange choir. Ex-Gov. and Mrs. Frederic Robie of Gorham were present. The Grange was named for the Governor. He spoke of the history of the founding of the order. The Governor was the third State Master and held the office eight years. He was well qualified to speak from experience. The Governor's health is not as good as it was once and after talking awhile he had to ask them to excuse him from further remarks.

There was a recitation by Frederic Robie Grange, a selection by Crooked River Grange choir and an encore. Mrs. Ira Harriman read a paper on "What we live for," Henry Hammond of Paris spoke on "The short course of the University of Maine." A Mr. Scribner of Spurr's Corner thought more machinery should be used in farm work. He was cultivating 17 acres alone, this summer, besides the other work on his large farm.

The next meeting will be at Buckfield.
